Mr. R. W. Beach is in the East

Mr. Geo. B. Rosington, the commercial ambassador, replenished the stock of our hardware merchants during the week.

Mr. Jas. Wardlaw, of Shelbyville,

Tenn., has been visiting Esquire

Jack Anderson, during the past week.

Mr. D. Kinnear, of the extensive firm of Kinnear, Son & Co., is now on East buying goods for the spring and summer trade.

Miss Mattie Bagwell, of the Mc-Adow neighborhood, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. Larkin, on Greenwood Avenue.

Erin Review: Miss Janie Broadus, of Clarksville, is visiting the family of our senior editor, W. J.

Broadus.

Paris Intelligence: Mr. Joshua

Brown and his daughter, Miss Eva, of Nashville, are visiting the family of Col. N. Y. Cavitt in this city.

Mr. V. L. Williams, the enterprising shoe merchant, is now among the factories of the East, laying in his spring and summer

"head and foot gear."

Mr. Thos. L. McClure, a former well known and clever resident of this city, now doing a thriving drug business at Adairville, Ky., was in the city during the week.

Messrs. John Demoville and Hicks Plummer, two live and affect commercial tourists from the Rock City, were about town yesterday.

Col. Tom Beasley, of Todd county, Ky., was in attendance upon St.

Elmo's wonderful mediamistic performance at Elder's Opera House, last Tuesday night. He seemed to greatly enjoy the show.

Mr. Walter P. Woodruff, a popular young druggist, of Columbia, spent several days in our city this week. Dame Ramor says there will be a local demand for orange blossoms in a few weeks.

Columbia Independent: George

McCordy returned to Columbia yesterday, from Clarksville, after a sojourn of several weeks with his people. George is the very picture of health, arms strong and a jovial, clever fellow.

Mr. Ben. Franklin, formerly of the Leas' job office, this city, but now slinging tobacco display ads and job work for the Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky., is spending a few days with his family in the city.

Mr. John O'Brien and family moved to Pensacola, Florida, last Monday, which place they will make their future home. Mrs. was accompanied hither by Mr. John W.

Faxon and wife, who go for a pleasure trip.

Mr. C. B. Plummer and daughter,

Miss Annie, of McAllister's X

Roads, are on a visit to the family of Mr. Frank Phillips cor. First and Washington. Mr. Plummer has been suffering very much from rheumatism for several months, but we are glad to know his much better since coming to the city.

Mr. R. E. McRoberts, a young gentleman recently from Grenada,

Miss., but a native of Kentucky, has taken a position in the popular drug house of Mr. Sam. B. Stewart.

Mr. McRoberts has been in the drug business since boyhood, and comes among us highly recommended as an experienced druggist and pharmaceutist, and those entrusting prescriptions to his hands can rest assured they will be reliably and also be well compounded. He will also be a constant addition to our social circles.

See who has for sale.

Look at the "For Rent," and get you a good house.

Read why the "Crown" is the best sewing machine extant.

Those desiring fine farming land should read "First-class farms for sale," elsewhere in this issue.

If you want desirable building lots, read Mr. W. Elder's notice.

See notice to the public by Mr.

Polk G. Johnson, President of the Clarksville and Port Royal Turnpike Company.

Magazine readers should read the advertisement of the U. S. Monthly.

It is not a waste of time. Call at this office and see specimen copies.

The Clarksville Wagon Company advertises a reduction in the price of wagons. There is no wagon now made that is superior to those turned out by this establishment, and those wishing to purchase a new wagon of any size or style, will greatly neglect their own interests, if they fail to examine these wagons before buying elsewhere.

Reading Club.

The Clarksville Reading Club will meet the third Tuesday night in March, at the residence of Mr. J.

M. Rice, on Franklin street.

At the late February term of the Chancery court, a decree was re-nded enjoining the people from traveling the lanes leading from the Clarksville & Port Royal turnpike, except those living between the residence of Mr. J. E. Moseley and the Charlotte road. Mr. Polk G.

Johnson, President of the Clarksville & Port Royal Turnpike Co., desires it to be known that any violation of this injunction will be promptly prosecuted.

The Lebanon Herald is cruel enough to say, that the American without Doak is like the play of Hamlet without the melancholy

Dane. Of course, we all think that, but did not like to hurt the feelings of the young genius who stands out from the now-you-see-how-we-andnow-you-don't editorial for the once proud American.

Reports from the overflow of the Mississippi, Red and Arkansas rivers, to the middle of the week, continue to be of the most frightful and harrowing nature. The destruction of life and property is truly appalling and the cry for help for the destitute people and starving stock continues to come from the flooded country. The floods are reported as having broken over levees and opened crevasses never before known to give way. The rushing of the waters through the
